

World Traveler Is Relaxing in Local Section for Trip

William Darling Will Go to Guatemala Next; Won Honor With Admiral Byrd

William Darling, perennial globetrotter, in his 50's, finds Marlborough and Hurley ideal for relaxation after his years away from this area, residential choice of his ancestors since the 17th century.

The retired mechanical engineer and traveler extraordinary, who has the distinction of being a Congressional Medal of Honor winner, is resting up for another jaunt, which he intends to start in a few weeks.

Mr. Darling, whose pleasure and business tours have taken him over an extensive part of North and South America, including a trip to the Antarctic with Admiral Byrd in 1938-39, has now, an uncle, George Darling of Main street.

Hoover Gave Medal
It was in recognition of Mr. Darling's contributions to the Byrd expedition that he received the Congressional Medal of Honor, civilian counterpart of the military award. President Hoover pinned the medal on his lapel at a special ceremony on the White House lawn at Washington, D. C., June 14, 1939.

William Darling's travel background reads like an exciting novel. He spent 22 years in South America, where he served with various organizations as a mechanical engineer. He was employed at various times during his life in that country by the Serro de Pisco Mining Company in Peru, the Guggenheim Construction Company in Chile, the Dwight T. Robinson Engineering Company in Brazil, and a railroad company on a rubber plantation operated by the Henry Ford and Firestone Tire Company about 18 miles inland up the Amazon river.

Expedition Contrast
Reminiscing about his jaunt to Antarctica, Mr. Darling recalled that at that time the expedition

Police Make Final Check of Petition

A final check of the second petition for a pay-boost referendum circulated by members of the local police department was made at the regular weekly meeting of the Kingston Patrolmen's Association in the city hall last night.

Most of the members reported that their lists would be completed within a few days. Officer Leonard, president of the association, said today: "The second petition must be filed by July 18."

had only two ships and 82 men, with transportation facilities consisting of two planes and sleds. "Compare this with today," he mused, "when on his recent fourth expedition Byrd had more than 4,500 men, 11 ships and some 18 planes for scouting and observation."

"One of the interesting aspects on that 28 trip," Mr. Darling said, "was the discovery of various minerals and ores in the Antarctic region, leading mineralogists to come to the conclusion that the snow and ice regions were at one time a virgin forest. Traces of coal, gold, copper and iron ore, samples of which were brought back on that expedition in the later twenties, indicated that the ice age must have been preceded by the coal and stone ages, known to geologists as the paleozoic era."

Mr. Darling, who vacationed in Florida last winter, covering most of that state on his sightseeing tour, expects to visit Guatemala by way of Mexico, and Panama City this winter.

The Canal Zone will be no novelty to him. He worked on the Panama Canal from 1905 to 1915. He has visited Mexico, Costa Rica, Panama, Colombia, Peru, Chile, Brazil, Cuba, Jamaica, Haiti (Port au Prince), the Virgin Islands, the Hawaiian Islands, the Philippines, the Fiji group, Tahiti, Samoa, Melbourne, Australia and New Zealand. Most of these trips were vacationing tours.

His Idea on Bases
Speculating on the acquisition of the Pacific bases by American forces, Mr. Darling was of the opinion that the U. S. should have kept the Philippines for military protection. Having fortified Guam and Midway, he explained, the country should not carry it along with Hawaii as additional states. Some of the minor islands should be returned to Japan, he added, under the condition that she never fortify them, as they are more of a headache and bother than an aid.

He further maintained that America should obtain a group of islands in the Pacific, near the Panama Canal, currently belonging to Costa Rica, and that they be fortified with military installations. But they should be acquired through mutually satisfactory transactions, he emphasized.

still is showing losses on some particular products.
Dr. Emerson P. Schmidt of the United States Chamber of Commerce told a Congressional hearing Wednesday that he believes the coal settlement is inflationary and will touch off a general demand for higher wages.

Boy Reports Injury

Rudi J. Hohenberger, 9, of 100 TenBroeck avenue reported a slight injury following an accident on Broadway near Thomas street today. According to the police, the youth, riding a bicycle, came in contact with the door of an auto driven by Joel L. Harrison, 124 Morgan Place, Arlington, Va., who had opened a door as he parked. The police said the boy complained of bruises of the stomach but a check at the Kingston Hospital revealed that he was not otherwise injured.

Financial and Commercial

New York, July 11 (AP)—Persistent demand for steel and special issues today put the Stock Market's industrial average at another new high for the year although selling on the lengthy upswing restrained many leaders.

A stiff wage boost in the hard coal field, on top of the recent pay hike for bituminous miners, accentuated inflation psychology as a buying argument. Wall Street skeptics were plentiful, however, and these trimmed accounts or held aloof to await the response of consumers to mounting prices.

"Compared with today," he mused, "when on his recent fourth expedition Byrd had more than 4,500 men, 11 ships and some 18 planes for scouting and observation."

Dealings speeded up in the forenoon but subsequently tapered as offerings appeared. Extreme advances running to 2 or more points were noticed in most cases near the fourth hour with assorted losses in evidence.

At peaks for 1947 were American Smelting, Union Carbide, Western Union, A. S. Soco, Gulf Oil, Shell Union Oil and St. Regis Paper. Ahead the greater part of the list were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Youngstown Sheet, American Rolling Mill, Chrysler, U. S. Rubber, International Harvester, Caterpillar Tractor, duPont, J. C. Penney, Colgate-Palmolive, Publicker, Monsanto Chemical and Homestake Mining. Increased quarterly payments lifted Reynolds Tobacco "B" and Byron Jackson. Rails were narrow.

Bonds steadied and commodities were uneven.

Coroner Chipp Withholds His Verdict Pending Conference

Coroner Arthur Chipp, of Kerkonkson today said, after an investigation, that he would not render an official verdict in the death of Henry Gardner, 45, Ellenville plumber, until he had conferred with Dr. Saul Ritchie, Kingston, who treated Mr. Gardner for injuries suffered when a water tank burst at a Napanoch resort, Wednesday night.

Mr. Gardner died Thursday at 7:45 a. m. in the Kingston Hospital, where Dr. Ritchie treated him for two severely shattered legs after he had received first aid at the scene of the accident on the property of the Prospect Country House on the Berne road, Napanoch. Loss of blood was a contributory cause of death, Coroner Chipp presumed, although he said he would await the physician's report before giving his verdict.

Coroner Chipp said that the New Prospect House is co-owned by two Brooklyn women, Annie Katz of 795 Linden Boulevard, and Sarah Ginsberg, of 334 South Third street, who took title to the property in December, 1944. They told him, he said, that the whole water system, including the tank, hadn't been changed from the time of purchase, except for winter shut-offs. They told him that Arthur Kavanaugh, the former owner, had turned on the water last May without making any new installations.

Draws from Spring
The tank, with a pump draws water from a small spring near the property, he said, for two large houses and a cottage. During the July 4 period, the cottage had no water, the coroner learned and an Ellenville plumber was called to remedy the situation, Mrs. Ginsberg said.

Coroner Chipp advised that the investigation would be continued, with a check by Wurtsboro State Police and District Attorney Louis C. Bruhn, whom he called on the matter. He said that a report about the water tank's pressure of 100 pounds and the pump's pressure of 150 pounds probably would be considered, although he was not prepared with data to make any official comment on it.

Mr. Gardner's attorney, to represent him, was standing on a ladder at the tank when the accident happened and was hurled to the ground by the impact. He started work on the job between 9:30 and 10 p. m. it was said previous to the arrival of another mechanic, Abraham Meschov, of Kerkonkson, who had been called but did not arrive in time to make repairs to the water system.

East-West Rift Widens As Others Join Boycott

Paris, July 11 (AP)—The East-West rift in Europe widened today on the eve of a continental recovery conference as Russia's friends lined up with her in a boycott of the meeting, called by Britain and France.

Fourteen nations had accepted invitations to join the two sponsors in consultations on the Marshall plan to begin at 11 a. m. (5 a. m. Eastern Standard Time) tomorrow in the French foreign minister's state dining room. But seven others, all in the East and all tied politically or economically to the Soviet Union, had turned down such invitations.

Of the 22 nations invited, only Finland had made no official statement. Stockholm reported last night that a Helsinki dispatch said Finland's government would meet at 2 p. m. (7 a. m. Eastern Standard Time) today to give its reply. But early today the Moscow radio, heard in London, said "It has been disclosed in Helsinki that the Finnish government passed yesterday a unanimous decision on the necessity to reject" the conference invitation.

Of the non-participating countries, Czechoslovakia had said earlier this week she would attend the conference, but last night announced she had changed her mind because "acceptance of the invitation might be construed as an action against the Soviet Union."

The announcement in Prague said the entire cabinet had approved the decision. "The cabinet had been in session six hours after telephone call from Communist Premier Klement Gottwald in Moscow, Gottwald noted before last saw Soviet Prime Minister Stalin.

The lineup on tomorrow's conference: Out—Russia, Czechoslovakia, Poland, Yugoslavia, Hungary, Romania, Bulgaria and Albania.

In—Britain, France, Austria, Belgium, The Netherlands, Luxembourg, Eire, Iceland, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Switzerland, Italy, Portugal, Greece and Turkey.

Not invited—Spain.

Under a British-French proposal, European nations would set up committees to list the continent's resources and needs as a step toward getting United States aid in economic rehabilitation.

Secretary of State George C. Marshall pledged such aid in a Harvard University commencement speech June 5, with the proviso that Europe must draw up its own plan.

Herve Alphand, director of the foreign ministry's economic section, told the American Club in Paris yesterday, Europe must do all she can to make U. S. aid temporary and constructive because "we do not want America to practice a Santa Claus policy."

Mrs. Mannering Had Thousands Cashed in Bank

No Arrests Are Made; 300 Are Questioned; Man Denies Seeing Her Tuesday

New York, July 11 (AP)—A bank safety deposit box maintained by 49-year-old Mrs. Sheila Mannering, slain actress, contained $8,100 in cash, $2,200 in war bonds and an undisclosed amount of jewelry, police announced today.

Detectives continued questioning persons whose names were found in the woman's address books and also took time to run down many anonymous telephone tips, most of them from cranks, but no promising leads appeared to have developed.

New York, July 11 (AP)—Several thousand dollars in cash and bonds belonging to Mrs. Sheila Mannering were found in a bank safety deposit box late yesterday by some of the 60 detectives who are seeking the slayer of the 49-year-old onetime film and radio actress.

Although more than 300 persons had been questioned up to today, no arrests had been made.

A key to the safety deposit box was found in the West 57th street apartment where the attractive blonde nude body, a victim of a police raid, was found Tuesday.

Police Inspector Michael Ladd said that in addition to the cash and bonds, the exact value of which he declined to disclose, the safety deposit box contained a $700 watch and other jewelry. Police learned that Mrs. Mannering several times had visited a store to break $100 bills, sometimes saying, "Look what daddy gave me."

Two Are Questioned

Two men who had been questioned at length were released by District Attorney Frank S. Hogan yesterday just as the attorney for one of them was seeking his freedom on a writ of habeas corpus. Hogan directed both to appear before the grand jury next Wednesday.

One of the two men was Jacob (Jack) Rosen, 53-year-old textile executive and father of two children. His attorney had sought the writ.

Police said that Rosen told them he had seen Mrs. Mannering Sunday and Monday, but not Tuesday, the day police theorize she was slain. Rosen said, "I also," said he, "owned a pair of shorts, three suits of underwear, two detachable collars, a pair of socks and a man's handkerchief which were found in the apartment. Rosen's business associates, police said, supported his statement that he had not been with Mrs. Mannering Tuesday.

Hearings Are Concluded

Washington, July 11 (AP)—The House Armed Services Committee concluded its hearings on universal military training legislation today after hearing opponents of the plan assail it as a possible barrier to world peace. Chairman Andrew (R-N.Y.) announced that all bills on the subject will be turned over to a subcommittee headed by Rep. Towe (R-Ia.) "to give such future action as they may take."

Protest Is Made

Nanking, July 11 (AP)—China sent a second protest to Moscow today over the Peltashan incident which involved a Sinkiang (China) border clash between Chinese and troops of pro-Russian outer Mongolia. Last month, the Foreign Office addressed a new note to the U. S. R., reiterating the previous Chinese protest against "air attacks made by Soviet military planes on Peltashan."

Two Drivers Unhurt

Drivers of two autos in collision at the intersection of Broadway and Albany avenue this morning escaped unhurt, according to the police. One auto, a taxi, was operated by Burton Beesmer of 60 Broadway and the other by Vitantonio Brascia, South Beach, Staten Island. Both cars were damaged slightly, the report said.

Roxas Will Decline

President Roxas of the Philippines, read with some surprise that he had been decorated by the Spanish Government with the Grand Cross of the Order of Carlos Tercero. Not Disc Stack, Just Beams From Army Searchlight

For those who thought they saw flying saucers stacked up in the sky over Kingston last night, there's an explanation.

It was the super beam of the high powered searchlight of the First Army Air Force caravan from Mitchell Field, which was parked through most of the day and all of the night near the central post office building, on Broadway.

The caravan, which is on a tour of the First Army area, arrived in town at about 10 a. m. yesterday. It went first to state armory grounds and then at 2 p. m. drew up by the post office.

The caravan visited Newburgh and Poughkeepsie before arriving in town. It was scheduled to return to Mitchell Field from here. It left here at 9 a. m. today after demonstrations which lasted until 11 p. m. yesterday.

The caravan included a buzz bomb, the big light and a housing unit, all mounted on extra large trucks. It is on tour in support of a national drive to secure recruits for the armed forces.

Another problem was where to spend the honeymoon.

It is known that both Australia and Canada are hopeful of a royal visit soon and the welcome mat would be out anywhere in the Commonwealth, but the inevitable ceremonies accompanying such a visit might be considered inappropriate for a wedding trip.

Meanwhile preliminary planning is underway for converting Westminster Abbey into a vast auditorium for the world dignitaries who are expected among the wedding guests.

The Telegraph also said it was understood that Princess Elizabeth would retain the word "Duchess" in the Church of England wedding ceremony. The word was eliminated from the revised prayer book—but the revised book failed to get Parliamentary approval when it was put before the House of Commons before the war.

Four Men Executed In Sing Sing Prison

State's First Quadruple Execution in 8 Years; One Claims Innocence

Ossining, N. Y., July 11 (AP)—Four men, one shouting "I am innocent" as he was strapped into the chair, were executed last night at Sing Sing Prison.

The institution's last quadruple execution had been eight years ago.

Salvatore Di Christofaro, 35, of Buffalo, convicted of killing Joseph A. Serio, in a fight over a woman last year, died first, at 11:03 p. m. He had said nothing as he entered the execution chamber.

Edward Jones, 22-year-old Negro, of New York, was the condemned man who protested he was innocent. Jones was one of two men convicted of slaying Gustave Winkelmann, a grocer, in a holdup June 27, 1945. He was pronounced dead at 11:09.

Arnold Sims, 23-year-old Negro, also died for the Winkelmann slaying. As he entered the death chamber he turned to the prison chaplain and said, "O. K., Doc. Thank you for all you have done for me. God bless you." He was pronounced dead at 11:15 p. m.

The fourth man, William J. Thomas, 20, another New York Negro, looked around the room but said nothing. He was pronounced dead at 11:20 p. m. Thomas was convicted of killing Patrolman John E. Bussey on October 28, 1945. He had received a temporary reprieve two weeks ago. Earlier, he had declined all spiritual consolation and said he was resigned to die.

The other three had been visited by prison clergymen in their final hours, and all held to the last their hope for executive clemency.

State Executioner Joseph F. Angel received $150 for each of the four executions. The $600 was his largest fee since he assumed the post.

Lindsay Sims of Red Bank, N. J., visited his son yesterday, and Di Christofaro was visited by his sister, Mrs. Nellie Barbara of Buffalo.

The four condemned men had steak for lunch and fried chicken for dinner.

Potato Shortage May Be Cause for Food Concern

Washington, July 11 (AP)—The lowly potato may cause the government another headache: this year.

There's a shortage in prospect. Last year there were too many spuds.

The Agriculture Department has forecast this year's production at 351,000,000 bushels. This is about 125,000,000 bushels less than were produced last year and about 25,000,000 bushels less than the country requires each year for food, planting and other purposes.

Last year the government had to buy nearly 100,000,000 bushels under a law requiring it to support grower prices. Many of these were dumped.

Between 16 to 24 hours normally are required to dry a tea leaf.

46,096 Dairymen Eligible to Vote On Milk Program

New York, July 11 (AP)—The 46,096 dairymen in six states who produced milk for the New York metropolitan market last April are eligible to vote on a proposed amendment to the federal milk marketing order that would establish "floor prices" for milk during the fall and winter months of short supply.

C. J. Blanford, who as administrator of the New York metropolitan milk marketing area is conducting the referendum, said last night that ballots must be in by midnight, Saturday, July 26.

The proposed amendment would establish the minimum price to the producer for milk sold as fluid milk at $4.56 per hundredweight for August and at $5.02 from September through December. It also would limit to 44 cents per hundredweight any reduction in the fluid milk price which might occur between next December and January, or between January and February.

The price of fluid milk generally exceeds that of milk sold for cheese, ice cream and similar products and is an important factor in determining the "uniform price" which, under the marketing agreement, assures all producers of receiving the same price for their milk regardless of how it was utilized. Although current market factors determine the monthly price for each class of milk, last winter the price of milk used as fluid milk was pegged by the secretary of agriculture to prevent the "uniform price" from dropping so low that the producers might have shipped their milk to other markets.

The metropolitan area embraces New York city and Westchester, Nassau and Suffolk counties.

If approved by New York state producers, the amendment will apply to state marketing regulations as well as the federal order, the state commissioner of agriculture and markets announced. The amendment requires approval of two-thirds of the producers voting.

-and Ability to match

Give yourself five seconds, and you know that here's a car styling as up to the minute as the time of day.

Spend a few fast minutes to see why—and you spot both smartness right from tomorrow's designing boards and everything that should go with it.

Measure the reach and spread of that Buick bonnet, brim-filled with Fireball power.

Sweep your glance over the broad beam that spills room, the stretch that means easy-riding wheelbase, the size that tells of enough roadweight to end jounce and jitter.

Here, you tell yourself, is something to see. Here are looks to hold the eye for seasons to come—and lively, durable ability to match.

... Rich abundance of smooth, hushed Fireball horsepower from a straight-eight kept young and lively by Accurite cylinder finish.

... Tireless coil springing on all four wheels, leveling all roads to boulevard smoothness.

... Riding poise from two steadying tons of roadweight—ease of handling from balance to draw a ballet dancer's envy. Soft, roomy cushions seating three apiece—finish that's the very last word in richness and taste.

Yes, it takes no time at all to show that you and Buick belong together, should go together steady—so what's holding you back?

After all, we can't do much about getting one to you till you make your wishes plain. You do that simply by placing your order—which will get equal consideration whether or not you have a car to trade.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, JULY 11, 1947

JULY STOCK TAKING

July's arrival means the start of a new fiscal year in many businesses and government departments. Inventories are taken, plans made for future purchasing. Income and outgo is tabulated. The business house wants to know what profits, if any, have been made in the past six months.

This would be a good time, too, for individuals to look over their personal and home bookkeeping to ascertain if they have made any profits. In the case of householding operating, profit would be represented by savings. Actually that man is as rich as a millionaire who has been able to maintain himself and his family so that at stock-taking times he finds that all his debts are paid, his figures all in the black column. To keep a margin on the plus side between outgo and income—that is success.

It is pleasant to think that there are six months left in 1947 in which to try to get the balance right for the year as a whole if it's wrong now, to improve it if it's right but with too slim a margin. It means some juggling in the next six months, too, for few incomes are keeping pace with living costs. It means pushing a lot of things over into the luxury class and out of reach which hitherto had been considered necessities—things one had to have. More than ever, with prices what they are, July should be stock-taking time for consumers.

"East is East and West is West" said Kipling; but that is changing now, as both groups meet half way around the world and discover the same kind of chewing gum.

ROSES AND ROSARIANS

Rosarians, they call themselves. They came from Cuba, Canada, Georgia, Utah, Washington State, Washington, D. C., Virginia, New York and points in between for a three-day national rose convention in Cleveland. They were greeted with vases of rose buds in their hotel rooms, they toured gardens of local rose enthusiasts, they listened to stump-the-experts questions on rose culture and care. The upshot of their conclusions, as expressed by Dr. Cynthia Westcott of Glen Ridge, N. J., was: "Roses are tough. They will stand a lot of abuse."

Gardeners tend to baby their roses too much, these people said. Clay or sand makes equally good roses provided there is humus, some mineral particles in it, and pore space. But the spray gun, filled with an all-purpose dust against bugs and disease is important, must be used regularly and often.

It is strange that so many people look on the rose as a flower difficult to grow. These same gardeners will plant dozens of other flowers that require twice the fussing and give half the beauty or profusion of bloom. We line up squarely behind those rosarians and say there are no other flowers for color, perfume, charm, half so rewarding as roses. They begin to bloom in June and keep on going practically all summer long. In many localities they are at their best right now.

There's nothing that puts a fellow in his place more than returning from a vacation and finding how well the office has got along without him.

TWO SIDES TO EVERYTHING

The widely heralded chemical compounds for weed control, now it appears, carry certain disadvantages, even dangers in their wake. Use of the solutions on highway weeds is opposed by the great army of beekeepers. They claim that the chemicals, while destroying certain noxious weeds, also eliminate other desirable plants necessary to bees in honey-making. Airliners are objecting to country-wide experiments with the weed controls being carried out along public rights of way. Other naturalists warn that the anti-weed spray may poison tree roots and valuable shrubbery.

Hay fever sufferers see in the anti-weed formulas a hope of reducing the pollen that gives them so much trouble. Those other people, who go in for weed-free lawns and general landscape trimness, all are firmly en-

SINKIANG

In the heart of Asia is a vast territory which includes Turkestan and Tibet. Sparsely settled, not rich in agricultural products, not accessible to the highways of commerce or culture, these countries are settled by a number of races of man, some so ancient that their histories rise in the remotest periods of man's existence upon this earth.

Out of these central Asian countries have come many of the peoples who now inhabit Europe, the Turks, the Hungarians, and even the Finns—although it must be said that many Finns deny that their relationship is more than a linguistic one. The Finns, the Ugric group of languages, the Finns who pushed out of Central Asia into Southeastern Europe, probably bringing with them the domesticated horse and the wheel, were one of the most interesting of these peoples. The Turcomans were one of the most prolific and powerful races of man.

Today, races exist in Chinese and Russian Turkestan who also are the same in race, language, customs and tradition. The Kazaks, the Uzbeks, and other tribes are identical across the border. The boundary that lies between the two countries is not their boundary; it is merely a mark on paper, arranged between two nations whom all these races have generally feared and regarded as conquerors and oppressors.

Marcus Polo entered the Central Asian territories via Georgia and Persia. He found a rich country, teeming with population, living in glorious cities, conducting a vast traffic with all parts of the world. Marco Polo speaks of Kashgar, for instance, as an extensive province, containing many towns and castles. Yarkand he describes as a noble city adorned with beauty and surrounded by a plain, in which are produced all the fruits a man can desire. Of Khotan, he said: "Everything necessary for human life is here in greatest plenty. It yields likewise cotton, flax, hemp, grain, wine, and other articles. The inhabitants cultivate farms and vineyards, and have numerous gardens. They support themselves also by trade in goods and manufactures, but they are not good soldiers."

This area is now largely a nomad's land. There are some cities bearing many of the ancient names but they are no longer on the main trade routes nor are they of historic importance. The rare traveler describes them as primitive in the ways of life. But the same travelers speak of a noble city adorned with beauty and surrounded by a plain, in which are produced all the fruits a man can desire.

Since the early 1920's Russian agents have been operating in Sinkiang. Before that, the British sought to keep Russian influence out of Afghanistan, Tibet and Turkestan. Since the end of World War I, and the continuing weakness of China deluged by civil war and corruption, the Russians have taken full advantage of every situation. In the Chinese province of Sinkiang, which is Chinese Turkestan, very real and for more than 20 years the Russians have built a railroad, the Turk-Siberian, to this area. This connects with the Trans-Siberian and the Trans-Caucasian Railroads and although not of the greatest commercial activity, it has tremendous political potentialities.

For it is easier for these peoples to bring their hides and skins and whatever they have to the Turk-Siberian than to make the long caravan trek across the Turkestan and Gobi deserts into China, which they have been doing for several centuries. Therefore, the peoples of this vast region more and more look to Russia rather than to China as their overlord.

Now that the Russians hold both Manchuria and Mongolia and that the Chinese Communists are fighting in North China, the authority of China to all approaches to Sinkiang are cut off. What the Russians are doing in that area, nobody can know, but this is certain: Sinkiang is being added to that power which is the only power in the whole of Northern and Central Asia.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M. D.

BACKACHE

I often write about backache because so many men and women suffer with it needlessly. A backache not only causes pain but is a mental hazard all day and, in some cases, at night.

In a general way, if the pain in the back is worse when the patient is on his feet it is caused by strain or overstrain about the joints of hip and spine. The patient can get into a "restful" position at night and be free of pain until he gets up on his feet in the morning. If he has pain during the night, cannot get into a restful position, back is stiff and sore in the morning but loosens up and becomes less painful when he is on his feet, the pain in most cases is caused by infection. It is possible to have a sprain or other injury and also have infection, which means that pain may be present day and night.

That pain in the back, extending from the lower part of spine and hips up as high as shoulder blades, may be due to a large abscess in the spine. By applying an abdominal belt or an "uplift" corset, almost immediate relief is obtained.

How can the physician and patient tell if the backache is due to infection or infection in the back joints and muscles, or by some disease in the abdomen? Backache due to disease in the abdomen is not accompanied by muscle pain, loss of movement in the back muscles and hip joints, or change in curvature of the spine. When disease in abdomen is the cause of backache, the patient gets, about during the day, rather much difficulty but has considerable pain during the night; he cannot lie on his back but must lie on either side with back bent.

As a cause of backache we can now add disease in the abdomen.

"Go Back and Tell Him He Can't Do That to You!"

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York, July 10—About the time that Frau Wagner was convicted of being a fanatical Hitlerite, in Germany, I received a letter addressed to the editor, typical of those which come from F. D. Roosevelt's most ardent followers which said that Pegler was a menace, a nut, insane, crazy.

When he says that Roosevelt was a crook, the letter said, "it proves conclusively that his mind is out of order."

As to Roosevelt's crookedness, and I mean his lacerous avarice, not mere intellectual dishonesty, I have been going on this assumption that his guilt was admitted by his son, Elliott, and the wider world. Otherwise they must have defended his character and reputation against unchallenged evidence. The Ways and Means Committee of the House, controlled by his own party, took no look at the profit collected by the Treasury and decided that they would not even call witnesses because if they went into the charges at all they couldn't save their heads.

I quote from this letter just to show the fanaticism that Roosevelt aroused in many Americans. By his complete insincerity, both Roosevelt and Hitler were idolized, and this idolatry was addressed to qualities which both men had alike.

Nobody in our country, except Huey Long, ever realized more shrewdly that the common people possess about 75 per cent of the muscle, the emotion and the votes and only about 25 per cent of the intelligence and character. Of course Roosevelt was a snob whereas Huey and Hitler were one-gallop barefoot boys. But Roosevelt divined that if he could get a few aristocrats to say that he had turned against his own superior class and thus put himself among the common people, he had put over a trick on both classes. The dumb aristocrats obligingly did just that and the common people fell for him. When he called them "my friends," he was condescending and they knew it but they thought it was very "democratic" of a snob to sup with them; even though he used a long spoon and wore a clothespin on his nose because the "poor" they have B.O.

Bob Taft suffers a handicap because he is too honest to pretend that he thinks the common man is wise and pure in heart just because he is a common man. He might be wise and pure in heart, but not for that reason. Huey knew that the poor and the middle class people came as enemies to others because he was or felt like a Smith knew it; too for the same reason.

If you will think back you will recall that both Hitler and Roosevelt appealed directly to the vanity, the self-pity, the envy, the vengeance and the brutality of the greatest number, with the greatest power.

Roosevelt was an amazing commander. Hitler foamed at the mouth and shrieked and ridiculed the Heines to arouse them. Roosevelt called the common man, "my friend," which was something coming from an up-river millionaire who spoke with a Grotton-Harvard accent and churned up his feelings against "princes of privilege." He and his family had been all of these themselves. His father wouldn't fight in the Civil War because he favored the southern cause. That is what copperheads were. His sons, Elliott and Jimmy, were truly princes of privilege, like the Mussolini boys and Count Ciano.

We heard a great deal about the wicked German law to punish anti-Nazi for cost which deserved punishment "by virtue of the basic idea of a penal law and the sound feeling of the nation" even though no specific law was applicable to the act.

Roosevelt couldn't do that to us all of a sudden. But he had tricks. He was a hell of a man for "administrative law." A bunch of Communists on the labor board could penalize an employer contrary to the evidence and the em-

A. F. L. Has Advised Labor Unions to Disregard Taft-Hartley Law Provisions Which Prohibit Expenditures

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, July 11—The American Federation of Labor, through a bulletin just issued by its general counsel, has advised labor unions everywhere to disregard and hence to violate deliberately those provisions of the Taft-Hartley Law which prohibit unions from making "expenditures" in connection with elections and political campaigns. It says:

"We advise that, in connection with either a caucus, convention, primary election or final election, labor organizations may expend such funds as they desire to compile and distribute to their membership, and affiliates and to the public the voting records, speeches, or other statements of federal candidates (except of course, direct financial contributions to political candidates as discussed above) which in the past had customarily been engaged in by them affecting political candidates and parties, when the union's purpose is to further its own social and economic program and when such activities are undertaken without agreement or arrangement with any candidate."

The same provision of law prohibits corporations from making "expenditures," so if the labor union lawyers are proved right, big corporations, with their House organs, can soon go ahead and use plenty of money for propaganda to influence elections.

If this particular provision of the law is held "invalid" by the courts, it does not affect the other sections of the law relating to labor-management regulation. But it would immediately immunize corporations from any penalties, privileges bestowed upon unions to spend unlimited funds hereafter to influence elections in America.

The corporations probably would be happy to have the unions overthrow this provision and thus get clear-cut decision on something that business corporations have long wanted to have clarified. In any contest, of course, between business companies and unions, the amount of funds available to influence elections would be far greater on the side of the corporations.

An effort doubtless will be made to clear up the point quickly, so the 1948 presidential campaign may turn out to be the heaviest in money expended in the history of this country. When the Taft-Hartley bill was enacted, there was some discussion about labor cases—labor union newspapers, for example, that might publish editorials or statements about a political campaign. Almost everybody here conceded that such would not constitute an "expenditure," since in the normal course a periodical or newspaper would be commenting on all manner of current happenings and would not be publishing for a regular period just for the single purpose of circulating political editorials.

Now, however, the legal department of the American Federation of Labor has gone far beyond any borderline case and insists that Congress has no right to regulate what a union may say or do in connection with elections or by whom. The A. F. of L. contends that under the Bill of Rights of the Constitution any union has full freedom to use radio or the press or handbills to express its views, and no law can fairly and unconstitutionally destroy this freedom.

Congress, however, has for many years regarded the excessive use of money in election campaigns as tainted. While the Constitution does protect individual rights, it does not protect the power of Congress to regulate fraud or misuse of members or stockholders' funds or what a corporation or labor union or any other organization may spend in an election. It is achieving what it thinks it is achieving, and the economic objective is to it. Under the A. F. of L. counsel's view, Congress could not make any laws respecting expenditures in elections.

It would be most surprising if the A. F. of L. were to be defeated. But if they are, corporations will win privileges they have long been denied and America will see a spending spree in campaigns such as it has not witnessed since the 30's when employers were penalized regularly by employers during the last weeks of a campaign.

BABSON on BUSINESS

STOCK MARKET

Boston Park, Mass., July 11—Most of the stock market barometers forecast higher prices. This is due to the large amount of money in circulation, abounding credit, good dividends, high farm income, no unemployment and general prosperity. Yet there is an underlying lack of confidence which makes large investors hesitant.

What is the trouble? The simple fact is that too many businessmen are discouraged and that the government's economic officials have enough money and do not need to work. They really hold their position because they want to be of service and thus far have "enjoyed the game." Now they are unfortunately reaching a time when they wonder if their work and worry is worthwhile. As these men are an important factor in the development of business, this discouraged attitude has a serious backfire. Let me tell you why.

Statistics show that 2 per cent of the population of the U. S. is responsible for 90 per cent of the new building, new businesses, new inventions, and enterprise in general. It is hard to make people believe this fact and labor leaders scorn it; but it nevertheless is true. Kill off even 1 per cent of the population—if this 1 per cent were the business drivers of the country—the nation would go into the greatest slump in history.

Taxes and Labor During the debate on the Tax Bill, President Truman and his friends tried to show that the reduction in taxes which would go to this 2 per cent would be out of proportion to the reduction in dollars which would go to the rest of the population. This is notwithstanding the fact that the upper bracket people would get a tax cut of only 15 per cent compared with a tax cut of 30 per cent which the great mass of taxpayers would receive. Yet, higher bracket people are the ones who have the needed brains, inventive genius, organization ability and "drive" which makes industry tick.

Industrial leaders were therefore much disappointed when the President vetoed the Tax Bill. They furthermore were again disappointed when President Truman vetoed the Labor Bill, even although Congress passed it over his veto. Why? Because when they went to their office next morning, with new plans to speed up production improvements and extensions, more serious strikes were threatened. Thousands of men even left the coal mines in retaliation of Congress. As coal is vital to all industry, business leaders once more asked themselves: "Why bother?"

Free Enterprise Capitalism, so-called, has many faults. It seems unfair that a boy should be born with a million dollars, while another boy equally worthy should inherit only debts. Monopolies of any kind are wrong; business leaders have abused their power in many ways. The fact that labor organizations are not persecuted as at present, the fact that everyone is equal in the eyes of the law, the fact that capital "Two blacks do make a white," nor wrongs make a right.

President Truman should, however, honestly explain and recognize that there is a difference in people and that the few natural leaders should be encouraged and not persecuted as at present. The idea that everyone is equal in ability, as first emphasized by the leaders of the French Revolution and as now preached by the New Dealers, Socialists and Communists, is fundamentally unsound and every reader knows it. It may require a great depression to get people once more to think honestly and correctly, unless before then the importance of the Two Per-cent is frankly recognized.

What About Vacation? It is in view of the above that the stock market has reached a stalemate. It goes up a few points and then down a few points, with small volume of transactions. These transactions are mostly by professional speculators sitting in the offices of brokers. The real worthwhile industrialists, merchants, bankers and professional men are tired and discouraged. Perhaps a good vacation this summer may do them. Let us hope that they will take it and come back renewed in spirit and once again willing to buy stocks.

Ernie Radke, one of Ellenville's crack baseball players, was a caller in town last Sunday.

Travel on Route 28 Monday was even heavier than that of Saturday and Sunday according to village observers. Tourists and holiday visitors to the reservoir section and the mountains appeared to spread their going and coming in an unprecedented manner, with the result that at no time was there an approximation of the pre-war holiday congestion on the state road and boulevards.

Questions—Answers Q—Why do cardinals wear red hats? A—Pope Innocent IV bestowed them on the secular cardinals as a symbol of their readiness to shed their blood for Christ or the Church.

Q—Who established the Order of the Purple Heart? A—The Purple Heart was first established by George Washington during the Revolutionary War for military merit. President Hoover re-established this order in 1932. The emblem consists of the figure of a heart on purple silk, with a binding of narrow lace, which is to be worn on the coat, over the left breast.

Q—What state was the first to register births? A—New Hampshire. Records are on file for as far back as 1640.

Q—Why would a person weighing 200 pounds on the earth weigh only 80 pounds on Mars? A—The force of gravitation governs weight. Since Mars is a much smaller planet than ours, it exerts less gravitational pull upon objects on its surface, which accordingly do not weigh as much as they would on earth.

Q—What part of the blood is plasma? A—The fluid part.

Poughkeepsie Laborite Backed by Forces That Supported Mead at Polls

By HARRY O'DONNELL
Albany, N. Y., July 11 (AP)—Anti-Dewey forces expect to try to oust President Thomas A. Murray at the State Federation of Labor's annual convention at Utica next week and replace him with William Sorenson of Poughkeepsie.

The struggle, which could have repercussions in the 1948 presidential campaign in New York, probably will occur in caucus and may never reach the convention floor, but battle lines are definitely drawn. Some federation sources regard opposition to Murray as "not serious."

Sorenson, president of the Dutchess County Building Trades Assembly, is backed largely by federation forces, that supported Democrat James M. Mead of Buffalo for governor against Dewey, who was re-elected last fall by a record majority.

Murray, of New York city, was regarded as a major factor in behind-the-scenes activities that resulted in a federation non-partisan committee's decision to endorse neither nominee—a moral victory for Dewey.

Previously, the federation had endorsed every Democratic gubernatorial candidate except one in the past quarter-century. Mead, elected to the U. S. Senate in 1938 and 1940 with federation endorsements, was considered a New Deal Democrat with a 100 per cent pro-labor record.

Sees Success
Anthony A. Capone of Rochester who says the Sorenson campaign is an anti-Dewey movement, considers its chances of success "pretty good." He claims that several Republicans active last fall in the New York State Labor Committee for Dewey, have "changed their minds."

Capone headed a group of federalists who organized to support Mead. He is president of the Rochester Central Trade and Labor Council.

The anti-Dewey bloc will attempt to win several of the federation's 13 vice presidencies at the three-day meeting which begins Monday.

Hitt Wadlin-Condor Law

The group also will seek convention approval of resolutions condemning Dewey's sponsorship of the Federation and C.I.O. announced Condor Wadlin, C.I.O. ban-strikes by public employees in New York under penalty of automatic dismissal.

The same bloc, it was indicated, also would sponsor resolutions concerning Dewey's silence on the labor-laborer Hartley Bill.

Capone said the Sorenson group would argue that the Condor Wadlin Bill, also opposed by public school teacher groups and the State Civil Service Employees Association, was a "forewarning" of what could be expected from Dewey.

Dewey, who acknowledged his sponsorship of the Condor Wadlin Bill, said it was designed to safeguard constitutional government from anarchy through Communist-inspired strikes of public employees.

Several legislative proponents of the measure argued that it was aimed at subversive forces.

Dewey Admires Murray

Murray, federation president since 1943, was praised by Dewey last fall as a labor statesman. Dewey added jokingly that whenever he got into trouble on labor matters, he always sought Murray's counsel.

Three members of Governor Dewey's administration will address the convention. They are: Edward Corl, industrial commissioner; Mary Donlon, chairman of the Workmen's Compensation Board; and M. P. Catherwood, commerce commissioner recently named dean of the State School of Industrial and Labor Relations at Cornell University.

Secretary of State Thomas J. Curran reported yesterday that 2,073 were chartered last month, compared with 3,328 in June 1946.

Reds Make Sucker of Hungary With Hard Economic Pressure

By DANIEL DE LUCE

Budapest, (AP)—Soviet Russia's economic pressure on Hungary, anxious officials here declare, follows the line of never giving a sucker an even break.

Communists, as well as other politicians in the coalition government, tacitly admit that Hungary is the victim of continual financial hijacking by its occupiers.

But the Communists blame the United States for Russia's economic intransigence. They say it is a counter-move to the Truman doctrine and would have been modified if the big allied powers had not quarreled.

Chiefly, Russia demands over a billion dollars in goods and property from this country of 8,000,000 souls.

The Hungarians are dazed. They thought the armistice had obligated them to pay merely $300,000,000 as reparations, with two-thirds to Russia and the remainder to Yugoslavia and Czechoslovakia.

But the Soviet representatives have upped $200,000,000 on paper to $800,000,000 in fact. This is how:

The allies in 1945 agreed to use the 1938 price level as a reparations standard.

The Russians take the lowest world price of 1937 in valuing an item.

Phony Valuation
A new locomotive that may cost Hungary $60,000 to construct in 1947 is priced by the Russians at $14,000.

The Hungarians politely protest. The Russians at last grandly "compromise" with the little enemy state. They take the locomotive at $15,000—25 per cent of the real cost.

All down the list of physical reparations which Hungary is regularly delivering to Russia, an average of only one-quarter of the real cost is applied on the reparations bill.

By comparison, the Yugoslavs and Czechoslovaks are softer. They only mark down the 1947 cost by half instead of three-quarters.

A second big squeeze by Russia concerns $200,000,000 allegedly owed by Hungary to Nazi Germany and therefore subject under the Potsdam pact to Soviet confiscation.

Want Nazi Cut
This sum was part of a trade arrangement left in limbo when Hungary collapsed as an Axis partner. On the other side of the ledger, the Nazis owed Hungary about $400,000,000.

Russians ignore what the Nazis owed, but insist they should have every cent that the Hungarians owed.

In prolonged negotiations here, the government, including Communist cabinet ministers, voted a token settlement to Russia of $10,000,000 instead of $200,000,000.

The Russian "no!" was like a clap of thunder.

Unhappy Hungarian delegates have since been sitting in Moscow, but no compromise is yet in sight. Communists excused themselves from a place on the delegation but gave it formal support from distant Budapest.

Grab Off Companies
Besides the reparations bill which has climbed in reality to $800,000,000, and the alleged trade debt of a prospective similar size, the Russians have taken over $50,000,000 worth of German-owned companies in Hungary. In addition, there are other companies which the Russians also claim as German, but which the Hungarians assert are really French, Belgian or other non-German nationalities and were wartime thefts.

Hungarians concede that an earlier Soviet policy after the war helped them make a sound beginning on national reconstruction.

The Red Army did not dismantle Hungarian factories on the same scale that it swept away industrial installations from eastern Germany and Manchuria.

Even some railroad freight cars, which the Red Army claimed as war booty, were permitted to remain with Hungary on a rental basis.

But facing the future, Hungarian officials wistfully express the hope that Russia will see wisdom in the fable of the goose that laid golden eggs—and not let fall the ax.

At a lunch attended by a number of celebrities noted for long and dreary speeches, one of the visitors got up a sweepstakes, the prize to be given to the entrant who drew the name of the speaker making the longest speech.

The guest who drew Mr. Blank felt certain of winning, as his man wandered on interminably. Then, to his dismay, the next speaker, Mr. Clark, gave signs of going on even longer; but within three minutes of Mr. Blank's record, he suddenly resumed his seat in the middle of a sentence.

On being asked the reason, he said, bashfully: "Someone handed me a note saying my trousers were slipping down."

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

Visiting Firemen
Dallas, Tex., July 11 (AP)—Mayor Jimmy Temple, welcoming visiting firemen to the city, jokingly told them "he'd fix it" if any of them got into trouble while here.

Three of them did. They got traffic tickets.

A man of his word, Temple "fixed" the tickets. He forked over $17 in fines.

Santa's Helpers
Nome, Alaska, July 11 (AP)—Two ambitious Army Signal Corps men at Icy Cape, 500 miles north of Nome, are training teams of reindeer to help Santa Claus next Christmas.

They hope to bring the reindeer teams and their Eskimo drivers to the United States for the holiday season.

Tired of Trying
Menlo Park, Calif., July 11 (AP)—Advertisement by a motor sales company: "Murdercycle, 1944 two-cylinder. Please come and buy this before we get killed trying to ride it."

Expensive Berries
Los Angeles, July 11 (AP)—It was a costly yen for strawberries that Red Brown of London had.

Brown, stopping at a hotel here, couldn't remember whether his diet allowed him to eat the berries. His copy of the diet was in London.

So before ordering breakfast, he put in a telephone call to his wife. She informed him he could have the berries.

Brown breakfasted sumptuously on eggs, toast, coffee, cream and fresh strawberries. Cost $1.29, plus $94 in phone calls.

New Job

Tuscola, Ill., July 11 (AP)—Myron Fullerton, a Tuscola baker, told a complaint into the city council's hands and the council tossed it right back into Fullerton's.

Fullerton complained that smoke from railroad locomotives poured into his bakery while the engine crews ate their lunch nearby.

The council appointed Fullerton city smoke inspector with authority to bring offenders into a police magistrate's court for possible fines.

Do you review the bidding in your own mind several times during the play of a hand? Many mistakes can be avoided by going over the bidding, and lack of bidding as well. Bidding on today's hand was rather simple, but nevertheless important in the play of the cards.

The opening lead was won in dummy with the queen of clubs and a small diamond was led. South played low and West won with the queen. A small heart was won in dummy with the jack and another diamond played. South won this with the ace and North showed out.

South returned a club, declarer played low and North won with the king. At this point North led the deuce of spades. Looking at all four hands, it is not difficult to see that declarer should go up with dummy's king of spades. But without knowing the location of the cards, could you figure out the right play?

When I saw the hand played, declarer went into a huddle and finally played a small spade from dummy. South won with the queen, and this was the play that defeated the hand.

West should have played the king from the dummy without a moment's hesitation. North had shown out of diamonds on the second round, so declarer knew that South had five diamonds to the ace-king-ten. If South also held the ace of spades, would he not have opened the bidding? Had declarer reviewed the bidding in his own mind, he would have known that it was impossible for South to have the ace of spades.

Charged With Homicide
New York, July 11 (AP)—A 28-year-old mother, Mrs. Etta Gelman, wife of a New York city health department inspector, was charged with homicide yesterday in the drowning death of her 14-day-old daughter. The woman was quoted by police as saying she was annoyed by the baby's cries and held its head under water in a wash basin. Miss Florence Williams, employed by the mother as a nurse, discovered the child's death and told police Mrs. Gelman said, "Call the police. I've drowned the baby."

China, most populous nation in the world, had 474,821,000 inhabitants in 1930, or 110.4 persons for each square mile of land.

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

By HAL BOYLE
New York, July 11 (AP)—Let's look at this thing called military secrecy—if any.

A country that depends upon it too much is like a man leaning on a wax crutch on a hot day. It won't hold him up forever.

The question of safeguarding what would like to see what we have up our sleeve has been raised anew by the congressional furor over the disappearance and return of secret atom bomb data.

Taking of these atom files by two sergeants as souvenirs' points up an old army truth: There is nothing the generals know that the sergeants don't find out.

And there is another axiom you can also accept about any military secret: More people know about it than the top leader has knowledge of. Their mouths in time will undo the work of all guards and fences.

Just Too Big to Keep
If General Eisenhower should believe now, for example, that only his key command personnel knew in advance that we were going to land in Normandy in June, 1944, he would be entertaining an illusion. Scores were told who didn't even want to know by officers for whom the secret was simply too big to hold from their friends.

The business of military security is always a tragic-comedy of error and terror. Professional soldiers, like civilians are prone to become careless or talk out of turn. And particularly in rear area headquarters.

I remember after the landing in Sicily the dramatic relief of a young headquarters officer who for six months had lived in mortal fear that he would spill his knowledge of that operation, learned inadvertently six months before at the Casablanca conference.

One midnight he saw a document absent-mindedly left behind by a general in one of the conference rooms. He stepped over and at a glance saw its significance—a landing by the Allies in Sicily in July. He phoned the general who came down hurriedly in his bathrobe.

"Someone left a paper on the table, sir," the young officer said tactfully.

"Has anyone seen this?" demanded the panicky general. The oversight might have cost him a promotion. The young officer played it smart.

"No, sir," he said. But he never drew a serene breath until we hit Sicily.

Incidentally, Wac personnel who did the secretarial work on both the Sicilian and Salerno operations proved women can hold a secret—at least in wartime—as well as men. No breach of security ever was laid to them.

Army leaders sometime give away the information they want to hide by trying to be overly subtle. Before the North African landings, for example, the officers attempted to plant the idea in correspondents' heads that we would strike into Norway. They needlessly emphasized the severe climate we were going into, and made a great gabble over the cold weather clothing we would need.

And then, as we marched out, we looked up and saw a corollary sign that we were in the section of the War Department dealing with the Mediterranean and North Africa. So we were right in the middle of that secret before even leaving the building.

Incidentally, one officer reportedly left the plans for the African landings in a Washington drugstore, but retrieved his briefcase before Berlin could hotfoot an agent to the scene.

Of course, foreign spies don't usually get their information from such obvious blunders. They learn more from bought or wagging tongues.

Although his officers often were afraid he would disclose his plans too soon, General Patton had a pretty healthy idea on military security. He observed precautions, but he never expected a secret to win a battle for him.

Few secrets do win wars. You still win wars by the old southern principle of getting your fustiest with the mostest of what ever you think will stun the enemy, whether you hit him with a pseudo-secret atom bomb or a handy crowbar.

The enduring secret of warfare is to have what it takes in the right place when you need it. No other secret brings victory.

Good Taste Today

By Emily Post

(Author of "Etiquette," "Children Are People," etc.)

CHOOSE ANGLIO-SAXON WORDS

A woman who is very proud of her vocabulary asks me why she may not use long words instead of short ones. Her letter continues: "I maintain that when one has a knowledge of words and can use them, there is no reason why one has to limit her vocabulary to words of one and two syllables. A friend insists it is not good taste." It is not so much a question of using long words, but choosing Anglo-Saxon ones instead of those of more pretentious extraction. In other words, to say "residence" instead of "house" or "attend" instead of "go," "tintinnabular summons" instead of "ringing the bell" or to say "particle saline" instead of "salt," illustrates my point.

Bride in Tailored Suit

Dear Mrs. Post: Will it be incorrect for me to wear a white suit at my evening wedding? Someone told me it was wrong to wear it after six o'clock but I had my heart set on this white suit. Answer: It would be "wrong" in the same way that any other tailored day clothes are incorrect on formal occasions. But, as I keep repeating daily, if tailored clothes suit your particular environment and people where you live never wear evening clothes, then, of course, a white suit would be proper.

Rectify Mistake by Using "Mrs."

Dear Mrs. Post: Several years ago when I obtained a divorce, I took back my maiden name and have been calling myself "Miss Mary Smith." At the time I did feel self-conscious about calling myself "Miss" after some years of married life, but I did not want to keep the name of a man with whom I never had been able to live in peace. According to a recent article of yours I have committed a social error, so will you please tell me how I can rectify this at this late date?

Answer: The correct rule is, of course, to avoid the word "Miss" by a woman who is divorced. Therefore, take your mother's maiden name, which was, let us say, "Brown," and prefix it to your father's name and call yourself "Mrs. Brown Smith."

Easy To Do

Dear Mrs. Post: On several occasions when dining in a restaurant I have ordered a shrimp cocktail. When it was served, the shrimp was too large to eat as it was. What is the proper way to go about cutting them?

Answer: Cut them through the middle with the side of your fork.

You need not be embarrassed when entering a restaurant if you know the proper procedure. Mrs. Post's "Restaurant and Theatre" is very helpful. To obtain a copy, send 5 cents in coin and a stamped self-addressed envelope to her in care Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail.

Business Girls Have Picnic

Present Miss Roberts a Gift. The members of the Business and Professional Girls Club met at the Y.W.C.A. Wednesday night for a picnic meeting. Miss Ethel Roberts who has been executive director at the "Y" this year was presented with a gift as a token of appreciation from the club. Afterward, some of the members enjoyed an evening of bridge.

The club will meet July 23 at the Airport Inn for a dinner meeting. Reservations are to be made at the "Y."

Fifth Birthday Party

A fifth birthday party was held in honor of Henrietta Diehl of 13 Meadow street Wednesday. Guests were: Henry Diehl, Doug Diehl, John Vedder, Kathryn, Robert, and John Horvers, Anna Mae Wood, Samuel Wood, David Wood, Leo and Frances Scott, and Sandra Markle.

Club NoticesFirst Dutch Tri - M

The picnic scheduled for Sunday by the Dutch Club at the First Dutch Reformed Church has been postponed for one week. The members will meet at the church house, 2 p. m., Sunday, July 20, and will go to North Lake. All young adults are invited to join the group.

Donald Britt Married Ann DeMicco Sunday At St. Mary's Church

Miss Ann DeMicco, daughter of Mrs. Carmella DeMicco of 334 Broadway and the late Dominick DeMicco, was united in marriage Sunday afternoon to Donald Britt, son of Arthur Britt of 42 Liberty street. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. John A. Flaherty at St. Mary's Church at 2 p. m.

Theodore Riccobono was organist. Martin Kelly sang "Ave Maria." The church was decorated with gladioli.

The bride was escorted by her brother, Angelo DeMicco. Her gown of white satin in train was fashioned with a V-neckline, bertha of lace, long sleeves with lace trim at the cuff. She wore a full length lace veil attached to a half bonnet and carried an old fashioned bouquet of white roses with baby's breath and streamers.

Mrs. Joseph Perry was matron of honor for her sister. She wore a blue tulle gown with hair bandeau of red roses and carried a bouquet of red roses. Chris DeMicco of Elizabeth, N. J., cousin of the bride acted as best man.

A reception for about 50 guests was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Britt left for a wedding trip to New York and Virginia. For traveling the bride wore a grey suit, while accessories and a corsage of red roses. They will make their home at 42 Liberty street.

Mrs. DeMicco is employed at Max Ulman Inc. Mr. Britt, a graduate of Kingston High School, is also a veteran of army service and was stationed overseas in Europe.

Visit to Kansas Bolsters '48 Hope Of Governor Dewey

By HENRY LEADER

En route with Dewey, July 11 (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey rode across the plains of Kansas today bearing with him assurances of many Republican leaders of the state that their delegation would be in his corner at the national convention next June.

The tanned and poled New York chief executive, is headed for Salt Lake City to attend the annual governors' conference July 13-16.

A two-hour stopover is scheduled at Denver where Dewey is expected to confer with Rex C. Eaton, Republican committeeman from Colorado.

With his wife and two sons, Dewey left Kansas City last night after 27 hours in the mid-continent metropolis.

Gets Assurance
During a hectic day, the governor received uncounted wishes of success in his undeclared bid for the Republican presidential nomination, plus predictions that a majority of Kansas delegates to the convention would vote for him.

Gov. Frank Carlson of Kansas flew back from a Washington visit to join Dewey in shaking hands with approximately 1,000 persons at a public reception in honor of the New Yorker and his wife.

Carlson said that in his state Dewey was leading all other prospective candidates.

Harry Darby, national committeeman from Kansas, indicated he also favored Dewey.

Landon Absent
No one knows exactly where former Gov. Alf Landon stands. The 1936 presidential nominee did not attend a luncheon of Kansas and Missouri Republicans given in Dewey's honor yesterday under sponsorship of Darby and B. T.

Mattingly, Missouri member of the national committee.

At Topeka, Landon said he stayed home because he had talked with Dewey at the governor's Pawling, N. Y., farm recently and wished to give other Republican leaders a chance to see the visitor.

All other top Kansas G.O.P. leaders were at the luncheon and Landon's absence provoked speculation, even after his explanation, that he might be 'cool' to Dewey.

May Be Wallace

One source said Landon might be playing 'hard to get' another and more widely accepted slant was that Landon was waiting to see whether Henry Wallace organized a third party.

At the luncheon yesterday, Governor Dewey said that although he was on a month's "non-political vacation," tour of the west with his family, he had seen more Republicans than he had in some time.

Christian Brothers Institute Inherits

New York, July 10 (Special)—The Christian Brothers Institute, of Santa Maria-on-Hudson, West Park, receives approximately $83,300 outright and an ultimate interest in a $100,000 trust fund from the estate of Mrs. Sarah D. O'Leary, who died here on May 15, 1944, according to a report here today of the State Transfer Tax Department. Mrs. O'Leary's estate was appraised in the report at $788,146 gross value, $537,831 net.

The outright grant to the West Park institution represented one-fifth of the residuary estate of $416,631. The trust fund is set up for Doris Keesley, a niece of New York, who receives an income for life from it. On her death it will revert to the Christian Brothers, a cousin of the testatrix and two friends.

Mrs. O'Leary, until her death a member of the Board of Visitors of Rockland State Hospital, was the widow of John Stratton O'Leary, real estate operator and builder.

Comforter Bible School Faculty

Comforter Will Send 9 To Youth Conference

Nine young people from the Reformed Church of the Comforter on Monday will attend the Youth Fellowship Conference at Oakwood School in Poughkeepsie.

The six-day conference is scheduled as part of the youth program of the Reformed Church in America, and is expected to attract 150 young people from the mid-Hudson area.

Those attending from the Church of the Comforter will be Nancy Barnum, Helen Barnum, Betty Jane Smith, June Rider, Jean Rider, Jean Anderson, Ruby Jean Peterson, Winfield Bigler, Joseph Sills.

Director of the conference this year is the Rev. Robert Dickson of the Hurley Reformed Church. The Rev. J. Dean Dykstra will serve as recreation director, and the Rev. Mr. Pontier will act as the dean of boys.

Claim They're Muzzled
Washington, July 11 (AP)—Opponents of universal military training complained today that the House Armed Services Committee is trying to keep them from being heard. Frederick J. Libby, executive secretary of the National Council for Prevention of War, said in a statement there are signs the committee wants to "railroad" a training bill through Congress at this session. His protest came after Chairman Andrews (R-N. Y.) announced that the whole question of universal training will be turned over to a subcommittee when the full group completes today the hearings it began last month.

C.I.O. Plans Reply To Taft-Hartley Law via Ballot

Pittsburgh, Pa., July 11 (AP)—The C.I.O.'s Political Action Committee says its answer to the Taft-Hartley Labor Law will be a vigorous campaign at the polls, financed by voluntary contributions from its members.

The committee's action, mapped by its executive board yesterday, was followed by a statement from C.I.O. President Philip Murray that a plan to qualify all C.I.O. members and their families to vote in 1948 will be "the most concentrated registration drive in the history of the nation." He added:

"The way to solve labor legislation—the Taft-Hartley problem—is to elect the type of representatives to Congress who will repeal the act."

Jack Kroll, national director of the C.I.O.-P.A.C., declared if all members of C.I.O. unions and their families register they will represent 25 per cent of the nation's eligible voters.

"That will be quite an influence on the ballots," he declared.

Information Sought
On Joseph Budziska

Chief of Police Ernest A. Boss was requested through a letter received today from Mrs. Dorothy Kyskoski of Doherty, Pa., to assist in locating her father, Joseph Budziska.

The letter failed to give an indication as to why the woman's father might be in Kingston or vicinity. It explained that he was born in Bayone, N. J., December 2, 1888, that he was five feet 11 inches tall, weighed 160 pounds and has sandy hair, fair complexion and blue eyes.

Pineapple Workers Are Called Off Job

Honolulu, July 11 (AP)—The C.I.O. International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union called its 12,000 pineapple workers off the job at midnight as negotiations failed in a wage dispute.

Picket lines were to be thrown around canneries and plantations shortly after dawn today. Except for maintenance crews, canneries were not in operation last night and effectiveness of the strike could not be determined immediately.

The strike at harvest peak hit eight companies which process 80 per cent of the world's pineapple supply in a $85,000,000 annual industry.

The union ordered its workers off both canneries and plantations but provided for essential utilities on the latter.

The industry has estimated losses in the highly-perishable crop—now golden ripe in the fields of Oahu, Maui, Kauai, Molokai and Lanai islands—would run upwards of $500,000 daily.

The union originally demanded a 23 1/2 cent an hour wage increase but said it would accept a 15-cent boost. The companies have offered a ten-cent raise.

Some historians claim that the tea industry in Japan dates back to 1565.

Tony Barone Batters Morton for Easy Win With Strong Finish

Ausanio Defeats "Tiger" Davis In Prelim Before Packed House

The boxscore in the Tony Barone-Eddie Morton pugilistic series reads Barone 3, Morton 1; following Tony's clean cut decision last night in a savagely fought main event before a packed, sweltering house at municipal auditorium.

If the Albany colored boxer has any further illusions about his ability to whip the hatchet-faced Barone, he had better make a bee line for the nearest psychiatrist.

Playing a fearful symphony of leather on Morton's midsection in the last two rounds, Barone won by such a handsome margin that the B'nai B'rith patrons never too endeared to the Scheinendy, mauler, accorded him an ear-splitting ovation when the decision was announced.

Barone Razor Sharp
It was evident at the start that Barone was razor sharp for the fourth encounter between the capital district feudists. Tony had a slight edge in the sporadic action in the first round, pumping in a one-two early in the heat and connecting with a solid right cross. He kept Morton off balance most of the way.

The tempo speeded up the second round, as Morton wrestled Barone to the canvas for no count in a wild flurry and pressed his advantage with sharp rights inside.

Barone shook Morton early in the third round but the colored swifter retaliated by pushing Tony around the ring and backing him into a neutral corner where Barone fought his way out in the furious melee. A long right to the midsection, a sign of things to come, slowed Morton at the bell and the handwringing was on the wall for the Albanian.

Morton Pummelled
What Barone did to Morton's midsection in the fourth and fifth rounds shouldn't happen to a rhinoceros. The formula was simple but cruel. Barone lashed out with a left lead to draw Morton's fire

Neighbors Seeks 10th. Win Against Nazareth

Boxing Greats Introduced

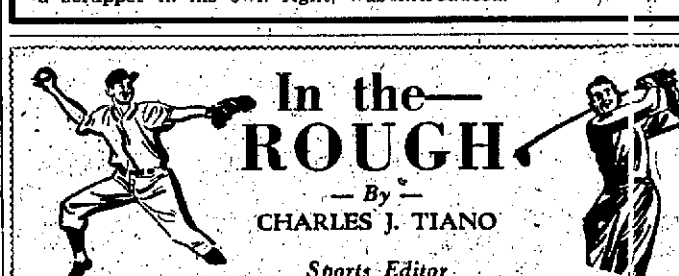

Nostalgia reigned supreme at municipal auditorium last night, when several outstanding old time and modern boxing greats were introduced before the Barone-Morton feature.

Charlie Molvin, former crack featherweight, and Izzy Damboise, middleweight slugger, of the National Guard era, were presented along with Izzy Grove, ex-contender for the world's welterweight title.

Al Chavez, ranking N.B.A. contender for the world's flyweight crown, took a bow. Chavez is in preliminary training in Woodstock for a tentative titular clash with Jackie Patterson in Glasgow, Scotland in August.

Paul Simpson, lethal-punching Cleveland light-heavyweight, who now resides in Kingston, got the biggest hand of the night. Simpson will meet a suitable opponent on the next card at the auditorium.

George "Sugar" Scherger, manager of the Kingston Dodgers, a scrapper in his own right, was introduced.

OF MEN AND MICE: A baseball sage whose name is now immersed in obscurity once observed that pitching is 70 per cent of baseball. Time has granted these pearls of wisdom a hallowed niche in the national pastime.

For example, take the Mahanoy City Bluebirds of the North Atlantic League. In Jack Medina, Tony Ciori and Bill Dux, they boast three batsmen with BAs of .350 or better, who stand 2-3-4 in the loop. Yet the N.A.L. standings show them: 14 length off the blistering .695 pace of Kingston's Dodgers.

The explanation, of course, is pitching. Aside from Eddie Alex, the ex-Fordhamite, who has his good days, the Bluebirds haven't a pitcher worthy of the appellation. Nazareth has two outstanding on ball hitters in Eddie Komiserak and Willie Gutshall and they are a mere 14 1/2 games off the pace.

Quartet in High C

How come then that Kingston, with only three batters in the .500 bracket, all under .321, are romping through "Buck and Grady's" circuit. The explanation is pitching and defense. Nowhere in the N.A.L. can you find a quartet to match the 29-5 record of the Dodgers' "Big Four"—Neighbors (9-1); Braun (7-1); Gilbert (8-2) and Seddon (5-1). . . . These flingers have been tough. . . . The two home-run kings, "Butch" Swatski, of Bloomingdale (17 HR), Buck Etchison, of Mahanoy City (12) haven't hit anything resembling a four bagger in the spacious stadium. Back these moundmen with the inner defense of Kowalski, Mahanoy City, Scherger, or Newhard and the picket line of Kerr-Orlenna-Ross and you have a defensive setup tighter than the proverbial Scotchman.

Flotsam and Jetsam

Walt Kowalski and Wiley Williams are hobbled by the cavernous stadium outfield pasture, largest in the league. . . . Erenby outfielders have matted down better than 400-foot drives off their bats. . . . Just in case you're interested: The correct spelling of the Dodger's second sacker is Bobby Newhard, not Newhart. . . . The big question: What are the Dodgers going to do with Bobby when Scherger's exile is lifted on Sunday? . . . To Scherger's eternal credit, he has taken his suspension like a man. . . . Duke Myers, ex-Dodger shortstop, now playing third base for Olean in the Penn. League, hit a double and triple and drove in three runs in a game against Bradford. . . . Newburgh has a softball team made up entirely of cougars. . . . Bud Snyder, of the Storm King Country Club, carded a 77 using a 4-iron in a recent sweepstakes. . . . So you need fourteen!!!

FIGGER EILBERT: N.A.L. leaders according to latest compilation: Hits—Do Toia, Peekskill, 78; Olori, Mahanoy City, 78; Gutshall, Nazareth, 78. . . . Runs batted in—Etchison, Mahanoy City, 74; Do Toia, Peekskill, 63; Sawatski, Bloomingdale, 55. . . . Runs—Do Toia, Peekskill, 79; Olori, Mahanoy City, 78; Swatski, Bloomingdale, 72. . . . Doubles—Pizzo, Carbondale, 18; Olori, Nyack, 16; Lukasik, Peekskill, 15. . . . Triples—Fleeta, Mahanoy City, and Kardash, Nyack, 8; Komiserak, Nazareth, 6; Gutshall, Nazareth, 6. . . . Home runs—Swatski, Bloomingdale, 17, (all-time N.A.L. record); Etchison, Mahanoy City, 12; Do Toia, Peekskill, 9. . . . Of Brooklyn's 28 clubs in O.B., ten, including the Kingston Dodgers, of course, were in first place on July 11. . . . Only two players in organized baseball history have hit two home runs with the bases loaded in a single game. . . . Tony Lazzeri did it in 1936 for the Yankees; Jim Tabor in 1939 for the Boston Red Sox.

FAREWELL TO ARMS: Howard de Freitas, who has done a great job as sports editor of the Middletown Times-Herald for more than decade quits the newspaper staff on July 19 to become assistant to Buck O'Neil of the U. S. Trotting Association.

HO! HUM! Poughkeepsie Headline—Billy "The Kid" Ostrom suspended indefinitely for refusal to rejoin club after $25 fine.

TWENTY YEARS AGO: The Postmills trounced Pales: 7-1 behind Jimmy O'Neill's 5-hitter. . . . Colonials trounced the House of David, as Art Smith gave up five hits. . . . Smith and Howie Carter hit homers to pace Kingston's 13-hit attack.

AND, as Monsieur Topaze says in a delightful scene at Woodstock, "Madame, this is the bottom, . . . the bottom . . . the bottom!"

Brooks Bests Gruner; Morgan's Win, 2 to 0

The rumbling that Jones Dairy hears in the distance is the oncoming Morgan's Restaurant toppers who yesterday maintained a contender's role in the City Baseball League pennant chase with a solid 2-0 victory over Boulevard Gulf.

Howie Brooks permitted only five hits and struck out 11 batters, for his fourth straight victory. The win was Morgan's fourth in five starts and kept them only half a game off the pace in the loss column.

Gruner Effective
Big Al Gruner, of Kingston High, pitched well enough to win an ordinary game, matching Brooks with five hits and fanning five. "The big right-hander, who was a pitching sensation a few years back, gave up two runs in the first inning and then closed shop for the rest of the day.

Morgan's struck quickly, pushing across two runs before the spectators had settled in their seats. With one out, Tierney dropped a single put out of Gruner's reach and side second. Brooks singled to right scoring Tierney and Tom Henneberry slapped a double for the second run. Scoring chances for both

Robinson, Louis Sans Challengers N.B.A. Declares

Washington, July 11 (AP)—The National Boxing Association said today that Walter Champ Ray, Robinson has joined Joe Louis in fighting himself plumb out of competition.

The N.B.A.'s quarterly ratings listed "none" after "logical contenders" in both the heavyweight and welterweight divisions.

President Art J. Green, noted in an accompanying statement that the championship situation in the last division with two so-called titleholders is about to come to a head.

That will be when Ike Williams, recognized by the N.B.A. and Bob Montgomery, who rules in New York, meet for the undisputed lightweight crown in Philadelphia this month.

The ratings follow:
Heavyweight
Champion, Joe Louis; logical contenders, none; outstanding boxers, Joe Walcott, Joe Baksi, Elmer Ray, Tami Maurilio.

Cuban League Given OB Status By Trautman

Columbus, O., July 11 (AP)—Cuba's four-team winter baseball league today won its long battle for recognition by organized baseball.

The circuit was sanctioned as an unclassified affiliate of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues during a meeting of President George M. Trautman and the association's executive committee with Cuban baseball officials last Tuesday in Chicago. Formal announcement was held up, Trautman's office said, until all parties could return to their homes.

Trautman announced the agreement included approval by American Minor Leagues of a plan to furnish 32 American players of not more than four years' experience, with the proviso that they would return to their U. S. teams after March 1.

Tigers Have Aces In Gutshall and Eddie Komiserak

Hank Neighbors, whose regime as pro tem manager of the Dodgers ends Sunday, seeks his tenth pitching success of the season tonight, as the first place Dodgers engage the power-packed Nazareth Tigers in a Ladies' Night attraction at municipal stadium.

Due to the late start hours, the game will not start until 9 p. m. Neighbors, with a record of 9 wins and one loss, faces a real test against the Nazareth powerhouse that boasts of two of the top long ball hitters in the circuit.

Willie Gutshall and Eddie Komiserak.

Set Records Here
Gutshall, a .345 batter with 46 RBIs, and Komiserak set distance records in their last appearance here. Gutshall drove a tremendous shot to the 420-foot sign in right center field, while Komiserak propelled a ball to the top of the bank, near the 390-foot marker in left center.

The Dodgers are solidly entrenched in first place, eight and a half games ahead of the second place Peekskill Highlanders. Fitching has been the Dodgers' forte and up to date, out of town slugger have not enjoyed any field days in Kingston, except of course for the two balls hit by Gutshall and Komiserak.

Neighbors twirled a gaudy 4-hit shutout the last time out and later salvaged a game for Alton Gilbert, and should be ready.

Three Women Held

Agnes Lane, 45, of 58 Ann street, Kingston, Hannah Burmeister, 58, and Ethel Hornbeck, 25, both of whom gave 40 Boulder avenue, Kingston, as their address, were arrested at East Kingston yesterday by Deputy Sheriff John Crispino on charges of public intoxication. Arraigned before justice of the peace, Percy Bush, Town of Ulster, the three women were remanded to the county jail to await further hearing this evening.

Glasco's Flying Disc

The "flying saucer" phenomenon became a reality in the vicinity of Glasco the other day, as a veritable flying disc crashed into the side of a house, George Clark, of R.D. 2, Kingston, reported to the sheriff's office that as he was driving toward Glasco, on Route 32, a wheel flew off his trailer and rolled into the side of a house belonging to John McManus, damaging the side to some extent.

Tilden Still Has Three Months to Serve

Los Angeles, July 11 (AP)—William (Big Bill) Tilden, onetime monarch of the tennis world, still had three months to go today on a nine-month jail sentence for a morals offense.

Superior Judge A. A. Scott, for the second time, turned down Tilden's plea for modification of the sentence with the blunt observation: "This man can't be free."

if the doctors can't cure him, he should be put in a state hospital and kept there for the rest of his life.

Dr. Edward R. Miller, psychiatrist, told the court that the ex-champion's "neurosis an impulsiveness" might be cured in "from nine months to three years."

Judge Scott turned down two requests of Tilden's attorney, one that the net star be released to the care of a physician and another that he be placed in a rest home. However the judge indicated he might consider the rest home suggestion later.

Tilden was convicted on contributing to the delinquency of a 14-year-old boy last winter.

Accord Man Faces Burglary Charge

Frank Snyder, 36, of Accord, was arrested by troopers of the Lake Katrine State Police barracks yesterday on a charge of burglary, third degree.

According to Corporal John Metzger, who investigated with Trooper Edward C. Rock, a complaint was registered by Milo Ives, of Accord, who said that while he was in Kingston Tuesday, his home was entered and an electric motor pump was stolen from the basement, also a .22 calibre Savage rifle from the porch.

Investigation by the troopers disclosed that Snyder was in possession of both items. He could not satisfactorily explain the possession of the pump and rifle, and was placed under arrest.

Arraigned before Justice of the Peace Percy Bush, town of Ulster, Snyder asked for an examination and was remanded to the county jail pending further hearing before Justice Bush.

The property was recovered and is being held as evidence.

Young Democrats Favor Aggressive And Firm Policy

BY ROMNEY WHEELER
Washington, July 11 (AP)—Young Democratic leaders offered their party elders today what they termed an "aggressive program to protect our peace and economic stability."

A "statement of principles" adopted by delegates of the Young Democratic Clubs of America after a private conference with President Truman and National party leaders calls for:

1. Continuing the administration's "friendly but firm foreign policy."
2. Elimination of hunger and suffering as breeding grounds of "isms."
3. Building up the United Nations "as a working weapon for peace."
4. Planned reduction in the cost of federal government and in the national debt with safeguards to avoid "helth-salter slashing of government costs by abandoning essential peacetime operations."

"We do not want to save money at the cost of national security," the statement said.
Adopted late yesterday, it is subject to amplification and approval by the national convention of Young Democrats at Cleveland October 8-4.

Drive Is Planned
The program—vowedly intended to enlist the faith and energy of youth—will seek to double its membership of 1,000,000 by autumn. Later it is expected to be urged at least as part of the party's national platform of 1948.

On domestic issues, the "statement of principles" contended the Republican leadership is "trying to move back to the 1920's" and urged:

1. Good wages, high production and high national income, but with guards against runaway inflation.
2. A health program "that will make useful citizens of those who now cannot carry their economic load because of malnutrition and ill health."
3. "A 'decent education' for every American."
4. Encouragement of small business, and protection "from crushing competition of rich, price-fixing monopolies."
5. Federal action to assure housing for veterans and young people "instead of the gun-point rent-increases which the Republicans have given them."

6. A program to "encourage fair and successful collective bargaining rather than litigation and strife."
7. "Tax reduction to come first and in greatest measure to those who need it most, and not a tax cut that will give the most to those who need it least."

Conspiracy Trial Is To Be Resumed

New York, July 11 (AP)—Selection of a jury to try two men on charges of conspiracy and acceptance of unlawful fees in renting city piers was completed early today and Judge Jacob Gould Schurman, Jr., announced that the trial would be resumed at 10:15 a. m. Monday.

Although the judge had advised the 300 talemans that "this is going to be a very interesting trial" and said he could not be "too generous to those who want to be excused," the jury box was not filled until 12:35 a. m. ninety-two talemans were examined.

On trial in General Sessions Court are James V. Audinore, a boss stevedore of Great Neck, N. Y., who leased city piers, and James Brody, a former deputy commissioner of marine and aviation.

Also charged in the case and expected to appear as a state witness is Albert Gross, 64, a salesman and former business associate of Audinore. He pleaded guilty last Tuesday to two counts of the 17-count indictment and faces sentencing October 15.

Meat Authorities Can't Agree on Scarce Corn

Chicago, July 11 (AP)—Livestock and meat authorities in the nation's largest marketing center disagreed today as to the effect on supplies indicated in the government's forecast of a sharp drop in the corn crop.

H. M. Conway, market analyst for the National Livestock Producers Association, termed the government's estimated production as "optimistic and said the country was in a 'fair' critical situation which is more likely to grow worse than not."

The American Meat Institute, however, said it could "see no drastic effect on meat supplies or prices" resulting from the possible short crop, while a spokesman for one of the largest meat packing companies said the reduced production of corn was "unlikely to have much effect because of the much larger carryover of corn this year than last."

State of Emergency Called

Cairo, July 11 (AP)—The governor proclaimed a state of emergency in Cairo today in anticipation of possible anti-British disorders growing out of a rally sponsored by a "Wafdist (Nationalist) youth organization calling itself the 'Wafdist Vanguard.' Police armed with clubs patrolled the streets in trucks alert for the first sign of trouble. The rally was called by the Wafdist group, what it described as "British Invasion Day"—commemorating the landing of British troops at Alexandria on July 11, 1882.

Lloyd to Receive $500 From State For Sports Project

State financial aid in the amount of $500 will be granted for the year-round recreation program sponsored by the Town of Lloyd, Emmett R. Gahnn, chairman of the New York State Youth Commission, has announced. It is estimated that for the year ending June 30, 1948, the overall cost of the plan will be $1,030.

Notification of the state was sent to Jacob J. Donovan, supervisor of the town of Lloyd. Frank B. LaFalce, coach of athletics at Highland High School, is chairman of the recreation committee. The project will provide for the development of a year-round program of recreation under the joint leadership of the town board and Mr. LaFalce's committee.

Activities will include all types of sports as well as crafts, dancing and dramatic programs. Various facilities in the community in addition to the Highland school grounds will be utilized in carrying out the project.

Some Chinese books which were made with leaves of jade are still extant. The inscriptions are run in with gold.

Mexico Puts Ban On Luxuries; Move Is to Help Money

Mexico City, July 11 (AP)—Mexico put into effect today sharp restrictions on the importation of luxuries and non-essentials in an effort to protect her diminishing dollar balance in the United States.

The restrictions were announced last night by Secretary of the Treasury Ramon Beteta, who said that Mexico's dollar balance in the United States had dwindled from $355,000,000 to about $200,000,000 since the end of the war.

Beteta declared that the important restrictions, which affect 23 general categories of goods, would be temporary, but warned that they would be retained until Mexico feels her economic position is sound.

"The government's action prohibits until further notice the importation of automobiles, radios, washing machines, furniture, pianos, watches and rugs."

In addition, import duties on 16 other categories of luxury goods will be raised to 1942 levels, making it difficult for importers to bring them into the country.

While the Mexican dollar balance in the U. S. was given by Beteta as $200,000,000, financial circles said the useful balance actually is only about $70,000,000. They explained that from the $200,000,000 figure there must be deducted the Bank of Mexico's 25 percent legal reserve against bank note circulation and sight obligations, which totaled almost $140,000,000 in May. This, they said, would leave about $60,000,000 in New York, which might be bolstered by a few miscellaneous items.

Last year Mexico imported $543,000,000 worth of U. S. merchandise. Her post-war adverse trade balance has risen to $12,000,000 per month.

ALUMINUM SCREENS
When you buy screens now, look ahead to next winter. An "Orange" Aluminum All-Weather Window gives you quickly interchanged summer screen and winter storm window. They pay for themselves in fuel saved.
• You switch from winter to summer in seconds.
• All changes made easily and safely from inside the house.
• Featherlight aluminum screens.
• Draft-free winter ventilation.
• Good looking. Precision made.
• Can be bought out of season.
